

Warhoop Scores Eighth All-American Certificate

Scoring its eighth consecutive All-American rating, the El Camino College Warhoop this week garnered a virtually "perfect" score in judging conducted by the Associated Collegiate Press, whose headquarters are located at the University of Minnesota.

One of seven junior college newspapers of its class to win the coveted rating, the Warhoop tabulated a score of 1800 of a possible 1800 points. Required to achieve the select classification in the nationwide critical service were 1700 points.

Commenting upon its analysis of the El Camino weekly, the ACP noted, "All American rating indicates distinctly superior achievement." Wallace Allen of the Minneapolis Tribune conducted the evaluation of the Warhoop.

Paper Praised
"You do a professional job all the way through," Allen observed in his study of Warhoop coverage of campus. Commenting upon the appearance of the front page, Allen said, "Superb job almost without exception. Your page is good looking and very good reading too."

The period of judging covered issues published while the Warhoop was a six-column publication under the editorship of Steve Lescher, now majoring in journalism at the University of Southern California. J. P. Van Ettinger, continuing his studies in journalism at San Jose State College, was commissioner of publications last year. The campus weekly emerged this fall as an eight-column weekly. Judging of this semester's papers will occur in January, with results available next spring.

First Winner
Heading the first staff to win All-American honors for El Camino was Joe Rothstein, who served as both editor and commissioner of publications in 1953-54. Rothstein, following several years of service, is now enrolled in the University of California at Los Angeles and is employed by a Centinela Valley semi-weekly; he is also free lancing and contemplates working for a master's degree in journalism on the UCLA campus.

Rothstein's successor, Dave Parton, served as editor and commissioner during the fall semester of 1954 and appointed Carl Larsen, who has published several poetry anthologies, as editor for the spring semester of 1955. Both continued in the All-American tradition with their staffs.

Bill Wilson, now in the armed forces, and Bob Wilson, who continued as a journalism major at San Jose on graduation from El Camino, were commissioners of publications in 1955-

56. Bill Wilson and Richard T. Baylor, sports editor of a southwest area semi-weekly, were editors of the All-American Warhoops published during their terms. Preceding Lescher as editor last year was Max Shapiro, currently a journalism major, and a day editor of the Daily Spar-

ten at San Jose State, who continued the top honor tradition for the Warrior paper.

Serving on Lescher's staff were Miss Anita Holmes, city editor; Van Ettinger, managing editor; Tom Mills, sports editor; Mrs. Oliva Diaz, business manager; Don Henderson, advertising manager, and reporters, Don Bishop, Bob Crowe, Gary Fowler, Mrs. Jean McDowell, K. Lyle O'Dell, Mrs. Ruth Sanford, and Mike Blum. Faculty advisor of the Warhoop during the past eight

"PEAK OF PERFECTION" Pork

The best pork is Eastern corn-fed pork. The best pork is fresh pork. And the fresh pork you buy at Ralphs is truly fresh... Eastern corn fed pork, brought here live, processed, chilled over night to firm the meat, then custom-cut and delivered that very day to Ralphs 36 Complete Food Stores! Naturally, this process is expensive, but it is necessary, to safeguard the delicacy of flavor and texture. To our knowledge, only at Ralphs is this standard maintained so uniformly. Yet, Ralphs pork is always minimum-priced... and now, in this special event... SALE-PRICED!

One Sentenced, One Acquitted In Sex Attack

A 17-year-old Wilmington youth was turned over to the California Youth Authority, while a 20-year-old Lomita man was acquitted on charges arising out of the rape of a Long Beach housewife last June 7.

Raymond L. Butler, 17, Wilmington, was committed to the CYA by Superior Judge Beach Vasey Friday after he pleaded guilty to two rape counts in a four-hour sex ordeal involving two other men.

The attack took place in the home of Thomas A. Tankersley, 20, 2214 W. 250th St., Lomita, who was acquitted on forcible rape and sex perversion charges Friday. Officers alleged he stood by while the assault on the housewife took place. Superior Judge Joseph M. Maltby ruled there was not enough evidence to show Tankersley knew of the assaults on the woman.

Tankersley said he was awakened by a radio playing. He claimed he saw the victim only for a moment and saw nothing to indicate that she was being held against her will.

Last August, John Marvin Ginter, 20, 25251 Oak Ave., Lomita, was sentenced to four consecutive one-to-50-year state prison terms after confessing his part in the affair. Another 17-year-old defendant appeared in Juvenile Court and also was committed to the CYA.
